Authorized Aurelia Distributor:

The Leader in Examination Gloves

Face it—Aurelia knows that examination gloves should feel and function just like the skin you're in. They need to flex and stretch, never fatigue muscles, and keep bacteria away. Comfort and safety are essential. But so is the strength and service that gloves provide. Gloves must slide on and off in one piece, and conform to individual nuances of your hand – no matter if you have long fingers, wide palms, or short thumbs.

Properly-fitting gloves provide optimal tactile sensitivity, sparking nerve receptors that allow better judgments and, therefore, more accurate treatment. In our extensive research lab, Aurelia has perfected its patented, Honeycomb® Textured surfacing to do just that. We also developed a refreshing peppermint scent, integrated into some glove styles, that is patient-approved for masking unpleasant smells.

We are excited to announce that Aurelia gloves have a new look, with contemporary box designs, and new product brand names. But more importantly, Aurelia gloves continue to deliver the same unrivaled quality, and extraordinary comfort you expect from a leader that shipped 20 billion gloves last year.

Glove Options to Meet Your Individual Preferences. With 10 different styles to choose from, healthcare professionals are sure to find exactly what they need, including powdered and powder free, low protein latex and allergy-resistant nitrile. Available with specially treated surfaces designed to improve gripping potential, eliminate skin sensitivity, and slide on easily. With sizes from extra small to extra large, for more comfort.

All Aurelia gloves are manufactured with the attention to quality and detail that has earned the respect of health care professionals. Aurelia gloves conform and are tested to the highest ASTM international standards.
